County Report

Devon would like people to think about and plan for the possibility of power cuts this winter. Nationally, there's no suggestion that it's likely, but the unpredictable winter weather, and experience here and in other countries following severe storms, suggests now's a good time for people to think about the electricity they rely on should for any reason an emergency situation leads to a power cut.

Loss of power used to be a more frequent occurrences but these days, as technology has moved on, the impact of a power cut can be even greater on our daily lives, disrupting our ability to keep warm; stay connected with others should we need help; and to power essential medical equipment that helps many people live independently at home.

We recommend that people take steps to prepare for a power cut and know how to deal with it if it happens.

Prepare

- Follow your energy provider on social media so you can find local updates
- Have a list of phone numbers you might need written down
- Keep a mobile phone fully charged so you can call or go online for updates
- Keep a torch handy and leave a light on so you know when power is restored
- Switch off electrical appliances that shouldn't be left unattended

Care

- Join your provider's free Priority Services Register if you have additional needs
- Check to see if your neighbours are safe and if they have a power cut too
- Make sure you have warm clothes and blankets, especially at night
- Ensure you have food and drink that doesn't need power to prepare

A six-week "Countryside Skills" course will be held for unemployed people interested in working in the environment and countryside management sectors.

The course, which starts on 10th January, has been developed by community interest company Running Deer and is funded through Devon's Natural Capital Challenge Fund (NCCF), which was created to stimulate the county's post-Covid recovery. It is one of six projects funded through the NCCF to support job and skills creation in the natural capital sector, while improving and safeguarding the county's environment.

The course will be delivered from locations near Moretonhampstead, with some practical sessions on Dartmoor.

It will cover a number of subject areas including practical training in environmental conservation, woodland management, hand tool use and maintenance, establishing and protecting habitats, woodland and field surveys and tree planting. For more information email info@runningdeer.org.uk

District Report

Local people are given the chance to have their say in the annual budget survey on our different priorities and give their views on the way the council is run and the services it delivers.

The online survey runs until 25th January. Feedback from the survey will be shared with members early in the year and will also include feedback on the consultation pages of our website, in our newsletters and social media.

We are planning to give back to householders the Teignbridge share of the Council Tax increase! Only a small part of the Council Tax everyone pays comes to Teignbridge Council, in fact, it's less than 10 pence in every pound. The rest goes to the County Council, the Police and Fire services and local Town and Parish councils. The proposed increase for Teignbridge Council for a Band D home is £5.54 for the whole year... that's about 11 pence a week.

We all know these are hard times, with prices rising, inflation now over 10% and so many people struggling, so we hope that by giving back this £5.54 to every eligible household in a single payment. We are doing our small bit to help the many people who are finding things particularly tough. This way, we will be supporting residents but still, importantly, helping to maintain key council services into the future.

Our plans also include:

- Building more council homes for families in need

- Investing in new employment sites helping to protect and create jobs

- Freezing our Leisure membership fees

- Supporting our indoor and outdoor markets at Newton Abbot by freezing charges

- Keeping free car parking after 6pm (4pm on Sundays).

Please help us and fill in the online survey. Every response really does matter. Thank you.

The survey can be accessed at teignbridge.gov.uk/budgetsurvey.

As temperatures dropped, our Severe Weather Emergency Protocol was triggered on 1st December. Updates are sent to local GP surgeries, the police, mental health, drug and alcohol services, internal departments within TDC, foodbanks etc

Emergency accommodation has been offered to all verified rough sleepers and we continue to check on the welfare of those who are declining these offers.

Outreach provision has also been increased over the last few weeks to ensure we are following up all reports received.

If you believe anyone is rough sleeping contact the Housing Options team on 01626 361101 (out of hours on 0330 678 2382) or report them via Streetlink

From 4th May 2023 onwards, the Elections Act 2022 will require voters to show photographic identification at polling stations before they are given a ballot paper. This will be effective for the District and Parish elections, but the requirement for voter ID to be provided at UK Parliamentary General elections will only take effect for polls held after 5th October 2023.

Any registered elector who doesn't already have any of the accepted forms of photographic identification, will be able to apply for a Voter Authority Certificate (VAC) - a free photographic identification document specific for the purposes of voting.

Secondary legislation is still going through parliament so applications for Voter Authority Certificates are not yet open; a public communications campaign will run once the application service is live. This is expected to happen from 16th January 2023.

If someone's photographic identification document has expired it will still be accepted as long as the photograph is still a good likeness of them.

Anyone who needs to apply for a Voter Authority Certificate will be encouraged to do so online, but there will be a paper version of the form available to those who do not have online access.
